VOLUME XIV.

Bayarde High Moral Simbling Get Trouble Again—The Perquisites of ommission—The Georgia Mailreads— Some Blue Politicians Talking.

Washington, June 16.—The democrates are pouting over the tariff commission. Some of them were in for a fight on it, and a large element in the senatorial caucus favored such a course. It was agreed to let the question be decided by each senator for himself. Mr. WASHINGTON, June 16 .- The democrats are packed. But Mr. Bayard when this danger was held to his view in the debate mounted his usual platform of "honor" and said no political party would dare pack this commission. He has dealt with republicans loss enough to learn He has dealt with republicans long the to learn something of their ods, but the sensitive Delaware methods, but the sensitive Delaware statesman is always too trustful. This is not the first of his measures that has been turned into a trap for him and his party. He seems to keep too high a plane for the manipulations of modern politics. While he may be making material for a nice biography, he is not a pushing, active leader, ready to seize every advantage and quick to strike whenever the iron glows. His leadership, too, has the tone of a haughty dictation in it which does not command agenthusiastic which does not command ar enthusiastic following from those who agree with him or wing o his following those who are tempted to differ. From the spotless integrity and the honest aims of the senator, nobody has ever essayed to derogate, but it is palpable to any witness of a session in the senate that he is not the man to guide or shape a great issue. He resused to have his bill agreat issue. He reased to have in our hedged in by any restricting provisos such as Vance and Garland desired put on it and now he endures the consequences in rather bad humor. The commission will be confirmed. Mr. Van Wyck alone of the republicans will vote against it. Senator Brown and Jonas are understood to favor it. Some of the more independent critics charge that the president dependent critics charge that the president knew Phelps, the only one of the list premi-nent as a tariff refermer, would decline. Judge Underwood's place on the commission Judge Underwood's place on the commission is due to the recommendation and warm support of Senator Brown. Governor Brillock had strong influences proposing him for the representation of the south, but the president announced some time ago that he thought it best to appoint a democrat from that part of the south. Senator Brown first presented the name of Mr. J. T. Hanson, of Macon, who had other valuable indorsements. Objection was made to Mr. Hanson, because he was actually engaged in manufacturing, and after he failed the senator proposed Judge Underwood, who had the manufacturing, and after be failed the sena-tor, proposed Judge Underwood, who had the good fortune to meet the executive favor. The judge stands generally for tariff, with in-cidental protection. His platform is about what was proclaimed by President Polk in 1854 in the famous "Cain letter," and sub-stantially what was maintained in the mow famous speech of Senator Brown delivered in the senate at this session. I think the judge has been colored a little too highly as a protectionist and prophesy that he will be found one of the most liberal men on the commission. His views on the interon the commission. His views on the inter-nal sevenue are certainly healthy. He is in for liberal reduction there, and will take up his ideas in the meeting. The appointment to this responsible position is not only a distinguished honor, but is attractive in other tinguished honor, but is attractive in other ways. The commissioners are to be allowed ten dollars a day besides the payment of that indefinite quantity "their expenses." The order to report to congress in December may be formally complied with, but their work will go on a wear or more. They will hardly sit near the steaming Potomac flats this summer. Saratega or White Sulphur offer more enticing scenes of labor. Judge Underwood went home this morning. As soon as he is confirmed he will resign his Georgia judgeship and prepare for his duties on the community of the strikers walk about in groups but are orderly. The

Mr. Tuggle has hopes of getting through at this session the bill to relieve the Central, Georgia and West Point railroads, togethe Georgia and West Point failroads, together with several other southern roads, by refunding to them excess of just prices paid to the government for rolling stock just after the war. The equity of the claim is generally admitted. The Western and Atlantic railroad has already enjoyed the benefits of the relief now asked for the other roads and resignation. ceived therefor about $190,000. The bill re-imbursing the Creek orphan fund to the amount of $251,000 having passed the senate, it is too late to hope for its regular process through the house. The only chance is to have it tacked on to the sundry appropria-tions in the senate, and that may be done. The charm of congressional life is fast melting away under a vigorous June sun. The only chance is to have it tacked on to the sundry appropriations in the senate, and that may be done.

The charm of congressional life is fast melting away under a vigorous June sun. The long semi-circles of empty chairs every afternoon tell how the enchantments of Washington's cool retreats have woosd agot in vain. The quill drivers put on relief squads and go out for a pap or a drink—of ice water. They are thankful for any little by-play like the quarrel between Sparks and Cox, which both now shade down to mere repartee. Yesterday they were freshened by the stirring up Mr. Blount gave Robeson. For the first time Robeson endeavored to defend his naval record on the floor. He choose a bad opporthankful for any little by-play like the quarrel between Sparks and Cox, which both now shade down to mere repartee. Yesterday they were freshened by the stirring up Mr. Blount gave Robeson. For the first time Robeson endeavored to defend his naval record on the floor. He claose a bad opportunity and sat down completely squelched by the cool-headed Georgian, and the victim of a general titter. It annoys some of the best and brawest men on the republican side for Robeson to put on the airs of a leader, but he arregates them with a pomp that would indicate his unanimous election to the captaincy of that side. The democrats very often maliciously refer to him as the leader of their opponents. I have often thought that cheek could reach a degree where it might border upon the sublime and since I have seen Keifer and Robeson, the Siamese twins of the house, I no larger doubt on that point.

A knot of democratic politicians were discussing the new from Oregon last night. One was trying to give a hopeful view of the case when another, avidently quite in the depths, refused to be conforted, said: "No. gentlemen; I face the said reality. There are but two doubtful states left now."

"What are they?" was asked. It is to be known as the postal telegraph com-pany. Material reduction in telegraph tolls are promised. Seven bundred thousand dol-lars have already been paid in for prelimina-

"What are they?" was asked.

"Kentucky and Georgia," was the reply of the completely crushed patriot. He was expelled at once. This acident by no means addicates the general spirit of the democrats in Washington and I threw it in merely for its grim humor. We are banking heavy on Pennsylvania. Mitchell is developing into an aggressive, gritty leader. Cameron's threat to oust all the tederal office holders not actively at work for him only shows ers not actively at work for him only shows his alarm. His anxiety is intensely personal, his alzern. His anxiety is intensely personal, his alzern. His anxiety is intensely personal, centering on his own precious seat in the sendate on which the keen eyes of William Wallace are set in genuine democratic covetous, ness. When Cameron gets his gastric organism rectified at White Sulphur he will go home to whoop up his clan again. He was never mad till now, and his splendid organizing power backed by stupendous patronage must not be underestimated. Cameron's friend Mashone, deeply sympathizes with him, and lassures Don he is keeping things straight in Virginia. Louisiana.

Upon the completion of routine business at 12:50, Mr. Van Wyck moved the consideration of his resolution suspending rule 66, so that action may be had upon the confirmation or rejection of the tariff commissioners with open doors, instead of executive session under the rules. This resolution was considered the contractions of the contraction the rules. This resolution was considered in secret session. The senate remained in session about forty minutes. The discussion of the resolution was largely colloquial, and there were no long speeches. The drift of the argument was that the adoption of the resolution would be an unwise departure from the usages of the senate, which might lead to embarrassing complications in the future, and it was accordingly defeated by a yote of 30 embarrassing complications in the future, and it was accordingly defeated by a vote of 30 against 16. The result was in no sense, however, a test of the sentiment of the senate in regard to the merits of the nominations, for a number of senators who are openly opposed to their confirmation voted against the resolution on the grounds above indicated. At 1:50 legislative business was resumed and the senator tive business was resumed, and the senate, under the Anthony rule, took up Mr. Brown's resolution to provide a clerk for each senator not already supplied with one as chairman of a committee. Mr. Brown submitted a subnot already supplied with one as chairman of a committee. Mr. Brown submitted a substitute authorizing each senator to employ a clerk at $1,200 per annum to be paid out of the senate contingent fund, and argued in support of his substitute. The resolution finally went over and the senate resumed consideration of the Japanese indemaity bill, the question being upon Mr. Morrill's amendment to pay back in legal coin the exact sum received from the Japanese government, namely $785,000. After a discussion, in which Mr. Morrill and Mr. Plumb favored it, and Mr. Morgan and Mr. Cali opposed it, the amendment prevailed—yeas 23, in anys 20. The further debate on the bill occupied the remainder of the day's session, and in its course considerable heat was shown by Mr. Morgan and Mr. Ingalls. Mr. Ingalls's statements as "historically surrue," and Mr. Ingalls replied that there we well to the proton that could fairly answer.

Mr. Butterworth, of Ohio, from the committee on appropriations, reported back the army appropriation bill with senate amendments recommending concurrence in the same, and non-concurrence in others of those amendments. Among the amendments in which non-concurrence is recommended, is that making the army retirement coupuisory at the age of 64 instead of 62, as provided in the bill, as it had passed the house. Mr. Reagan, of Texas, moved to concur,

Mr. Reagan, of Texas, moved to concur, claiming that it was unjust and detrimental to the service to retire an officer at the age of 62 regardless of his mental and physical condition. Mr. Butterworth opposed the senate amendment. General Sherman had said to him and others than there was no question as to the propriety, fitness and necessity of the clause in the house bill. Mr. McCook, of New York, declared that General Sherman had never-stated that the age of 62 was the necessary age, and argued in supportof the senate amendment. Mr. McLane, of Maryland, advocated the amendment, maintaining that the house provision would put upon the retired list men who were superior to those upon the active list. Such was the case in retired list men who were superior to those upon the active list. Such was the case in the navy at that present time. After further debate by Mr. McCook, of New York, in favor of concurrence, and by Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, and Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, in opposition thereto, the vote was taken and the senate amendment was agreed toyeas, 101; nays, 75. Other recommendations of the committee on appropriations was agreed to without division. After passing a few important bills the house took up the District of Columbia business, and spent the remainder of the session in discussing the hill appropriating about one and a half milthe remainder of the session in discussing the bill, appropriating about one and a half mil-lion dollars to increase the water supply of the district. Finally the bill was laid over as unfinished business for to-morrow. Ad-

Next he relieved the proprietor and a solitary customer of a gold watch, each; made them follow him to the door, where he took possession of the proprietor's horse and buggy, bade them good night, and drove rapidly away. The horse and buggy were found about four miles northwest of town this morning.

New YORK, June 12.—The Italians of Richmond had a most creditable memorial demonstration, Sunday afternoon, in honor of Garibaldi. A procession, with music and a tastefully draped funeral car drawn by six white horses paraded the principal streets, after which a memorial meeting was held at Mozart hall, where an imposing monumental catafalque memorial meeting was need at Mozart half, where an imposing monumental catafalque had been erected. The hall was crowded with Italians, the local representatives of foreign governments, city and state efficials, judges of court, and many other prominent citizens, including a large number of ladies. Appropriate addresses were made by Mayor Carrington, Colonel J. C. Browning, secretary of Governor Cameron. Browning, secretary of Governor Cameron, who responded for his excellency in the latter's absence; Captain Tazewell Ellett, on part of the military of the city, and several Italian orators. The catafalque was constructed in the form of an immense marble monument, and was draped and decorated with flags, mourning insignia, evergreens, and arms. The interior and street front of the building were also draped in mourning, Delegates of Italians from Norfolk, Lynch-burg and Petersburg participated in the deburg and Petersburg participated in the de-monstration. The Italian residents of Cin-cinnati also held memorial exercises, at which orations in English were delivered by Dr. Loew, of Cleveland; Judge M. F. Before speaking the Garibaldian veterans were drawn up before the house, and the roll was called. The ranks were then broke and each of the war-scarred veterans en-tered the house to pay his respects to Mencci. The old man was much affected and tears flowed down his face. Many of the assemblage strolled through the house and examined the Garibaldian relics, and after satisfying their curiosity the exercises began. There were addresses by General Bassi, Captain F. Bachman, who owns the house above spoken of, David Papa, ex-Supervisor G. C. Deane, Mr. Ranoud and others. Captain Bachman presented the house and ground attached to it to the Italian colony, the only condition being that Meneci should be allowed to occupy the premises during his life. THE IRISH BISHOPS

Express Their Disapprobation of the No Rent Polley, Secret Societies and the Recent Outrages.

Dublin, June 12.—The Irish bishops have issued an important address to their flocks, promising the support of the clergy to the people in peacefully agitating for their rights, but condemning as the worst enemies of the country the men who recommend illegal courses, particularly those belonging to secret societies. They point out that what is morally wrong cannot be politically right. It is an indisputable right, they say, of the Irish to live on their own soil. It is the right and often the duty of those oppressed, either by state or by individuals, to seek redress by lawful means. On these grounds the national movement has the approval of the priests and bishops and even the pope, and of all honest men without distinction of race and creed, but it is notorious that the means often employed are utterly subversive of social order. The address specifies these means as refusing to pay just debts, preventing the payment by others, in persons or property, forcibly resisting law, and forming secret sociaties and observe the redress thereof. The ment by others, injuring neigh-forcibly resisting law, and forming secret so-cieties and obeying the orders thereof. The bishops say that under each of these heads numerous offenses have been comm. tted, fear-fully prominent among them being the hid-eous murders which, even at the present mo-ment, disgrace our country and provide the anment, disgrace our country and provoke the anger of God and of his church. We declare that it is your duty to regard as the worst enemy of our creed and countrymen who would recommend the commission of any one of the above named offenses. We appeal to all to have no connection with secret societies, but to oppose them as alike hostile to religion and freedom. Let us assure you that the national movement, purged of what is criminal shall have the earnest support of the clergy. A considerable installment of justice has been, within the last few years, conceded to the tenant farmers, but to them and to other classes, particularly the laborers, much more is due. It is the duty of both clergy and people to press their claims in every peaceable and just manner, but the clergy can countenance no illegal means nor be the sowers of dissension. The bishops express the belief that the late crimes would never have occurred if the people had not been driven to despair by evictions, justly described by the premier as sentences of death, and which must be a fatal and permanent provocative of crime, to which it is the duty of the government to put an end as speedily as possible at any cost. The address concludes with the pastoral blessing. It is signed by Cardinal McCabe, Archbishop McGettigan, primate of all Ireland, Archbishop Croke, Bishop Nulty and twenty-one others. In the house of commons this afternoon, Mr. Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to a question by Mr. O'Kelly, said that John Gannon had been offered his release if he engaged to go to America. Debate on the repression bill was resumed in committee this evening. Mr. Healey moved an extendment that evelosive dealing he not an amendment that exclusive dealing be not considered intimidation. The amenda was rejected by a vote of 258 to 34.

The price they got was 27½ cents per pound. One of them, J. B. Norman, the late representative from that county, told your correspondent that the above represented only a fraction of the clip ready for market in his settlement, most of his neighbors being too busy at home with their crops to spare the time to bring their wool to market. He said that the crops in Colquitt were the most promising this year their wool to market. He said that the crops in Colquitt were the most promising this year he had ever seen, and that they had, and were still having when he left, an abundant fall of rain. The oat crop, he thought, would average a larger yield by 150 to 200 per cent than it ever had before. The corn was about made, and the smaller crops, cane, peas, potatoes, etc., were all doing remarkably well. The cotton was being troubled in many places with ent worms and lice, and was bewell. The cotton was being troubled in many places with cut worms and lice, and was besides the most backward crop of any. The turpentine men in his beat, were not altogether as hopeful as they were sometime back, the price of rosin having fallen from $5.50 to $3.50 per barrel, and that some of them complained of doing a losing business, particularly where the rosin had to be hauled a considerable distance. Many of the turner particularly where the ross in that to be harded a considerable distance. Many of the turpentine distillers, however, are in the same condition the cotton planter has been in since the war. Commencing with little or no capital, they have been compelled to rely on advances from their factors and consignees in Savannah, which, as a matter of course, implies heavy mortgages and usurious rates of interest. A serious decline in prices involves embarrassment and in some cases ruin. Land grabbing appears to be going on as actively as ever. The same lots have been given in for tax by several claimants in hundreds of instances, under the act of September 28, 1881. The cattle belonging to the stock raisers, he stated, were in better condition than for years past, the range having been exceptionally good all during the winter and spring. The feud between the stock raisers and the turpentine men about land, was still years old. The bereaved parents have the sympathies of the entire community.

Peaches to the right of you, peaches to the left of you, peaches any and everywhere, but onward march the brave 300 picking, packing, pulling peaches (perhaps). Just such another sight was never before seen in this or any other was never before seen in this or any other country. Think of it; 60,000 bearing peach trees alone, to say nothing of the thousands of other kinds of fruit trees. It is actually a treat to see this mammoth enterprise. I don't think Mr. C. will be able to market his fruit as fast as it ripens. In fact I know he wont, for hundreds of bushels of delicious beaches have been cast off in different heaps by the packers as too ripe for shipment. The demand for green fruit north, east and west is steady, but at lower prices than a week or so ago, and if returns continues in the same proportion lower, it would be more profitable to set a number of evaporators to work which would, beyond a doubt, insure a handsome profit above all expenses. Shipments by express have arrived in better order than those by freight, but the express charges are what play havoc with the profits. Fruit that will bring fancy prices do very well to go by ex-press, but when the markets are glutted and orices nominal, there isn't any money in it. Mr. C. will start two refrigerator cars from "the Hill" to morrow or next day for New York. These cars will each have an attendant and will doubtless put the peaches through in fine condition. Of this arrival and sale I will have more to say hereafter. Mr. Cunningham is not stingy at all with his peaches. Persons riding out to the orchard o see the sights are always invited to help hemselves and then carry about a bushel home. One day last week the number of hands reached as high as 450; nice little crowd to tackle a pay roll Saturday evening. On passing by the hickory stump, as they supposed, on their return home from their day's work some of the boys said they smelled something like roasted or burned potatoes, and on examining the supposed stump found it to be one of Bennett's big taters growing access the public road. The boys not having the ingredients or time, like Uncle Matt, of Jackson county, to make a pudding, took theirs baked and roasted, while working the road. Mr. Brown fattened his porkers on the remainder. porkers on the remainder.

A BOY DROWNED.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

Canton, June 10.—A sad accident occurred this morning about 3 o'clock, which caused the greatest excitement in town. Early this morning Master Garnet Davis and Tommie Newman went to the river and went in bathing just above the iron bridge. They had not been in long before Tommie Newman, evidently taken cramp and sank, and before this dentity taken cramp and sank, and before this dentity taken cramp and sank, and before this direction and the first part of Appling county. McNeil is at large at his work, and claims the shooting was done in self-defense. Both parties were under the influence of liquor, and are considered desperate men. Odum is not expected to live. We have continued to have rains, and crops dentity taken cramp and sank, and before this too much turpentine and timber and not enough of "hog and hominy." Hen John C. Nicholls, of Pierce county, is mentioned in the system of primary elections as being the best mode of carrying out said party organization, and cultivating peace and harmony in the democratic ranks. He made quite an the democratic ranks. He made quite an able and plausible argument in favor of the policy thus advocated. Mr. Persons will deliver the literary address at the commence ment exercises of the Carroll Masonic institute on Tuesday, the 20th instant. The school is in a flourishing condition, and the exercises will be highly entertaining to those fond of literary exhibitions. On Sanday, the 18th instant, Dr. F. H. M. All were greatly pleased who heard him and agree that Professor Jones could not have selected a minister who had a better conception of what a commencement sermon should be. The primary department entertained this morning a large crowd with recitations and reading in a highly creditable manner. Miss Luda Jones, of Griffin, Miss Corrie Moses, of Turin, and numerous other fair visitors, are here in attendance upon comencen ent exercises

MORE OF CHATTANOOGA.

HOW THE CITY CONTINUES TO PROSPER AND GROW.

A Big Concern—Loemis & Hart and Their Purniture Business—5,000,000 Feet of Lumber Used Annually—The Read House and the Chattanooga Times—The City in General.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 7.—The Times this morning offers to lay a wager that in seven months the city of Chattanooga will have a pepulation of 20,000. I do not pretend to doubt Colonel MacGowan's figures, for he is generally correct. It is a fact that within eighteen months not less than 4,000 people have been given homes here, which increased the pepulation since 1880 to over 17,000 or about thirty-three per cent. At this rate Chattanooga will double berself is three years, and I heard a gentlemansay this morning that beyond all question she would double in size within five years at the outside. I den't know how the present boom canne to get such a fearful impetus hart a boom it is and avery large.

What gives a healthy appetite, an increased discovery and the car shed, it receives a large run of patronage. The daily arrivals fill from four to seven pages, which is probably a better of beeven pages, which is probably a better to seven pages, which is probably a better of bowing than can be made by any other hotel in the south. There are 103 roof, in the house, all furnished in the best pout. There are 103 roof, is in the house, all furnished in the best pout. There are 103 roof, is in the house, all furnished in the best pout. There are 103 roof, is in the house, all furnished in the best pout. There are 103 roof, is in the house, all furnished in the best pout. There are 103 roof, is in the house, all furnished in the best pout. The least time and cost $75,000. The capacity of the beuse is 300 daily. Read & Son also run the Lookout Mountain house. This latter place is one of the most delightful summer resorts in the country. In another letter I may mention some of the beauties as seen from the Messes. Ochs, is proving a fine success. It has n years, and I heard a gentlemansay this morning that beyond all question she would double in size within five years at the outside. I don't know how the present boom came to get such a fearful impetus, but a boom it is, and avery large one. When the present decade shall have finished its course, it is estimated by some that the city will have over 40,000 inhabitants, while others think that 1890 will show a full 50,000. This may or may not be strue, though 50,000. Whis may or may not be true, though I shouldcrot be surprised if it proved a fact. In any event, I shall expect to see Chattanooga at the end of the nineteenth century with a population of fully 75,000. I am not trying to get up-a small edition of the pamphlet so ably edited several years ago about St. Louis as "the Suture great city," but am simply stating an array of prospects and facts as I find then given to me on all sides.

A BIG OONCERN.

I took a walk down Market street about 10 o'cleck to-day and halted when the Tennessee river hove in sight. While standing there watching a terry boat spin across by mule power, an acquaintance who stood by me

"Do you see that pile of iumber down yonder at the foot of Cameron bill?" Glving him an affirmative answer, for there were a score of piles, he said, "well, there are just 3,000,000 feet of lumber there and it is all owned by one "Who are they?"

"Loomis & Hart, one of the largest furniture factories in the entire south. If you would like, we'll take a walk down there. They have down therein the river opposite their works 2,000,000 feet of unsawn timber which came down the river for them." I followed on down the river front and was soon presented to Mr. Loomis, a member of the firm. "Will you tell The Constitution something you are doing here?" I asked, when the formulaties of the introduction were over.

"Certainly," he replied. "What is it you want to know?"

want to know?"

"Simply what your factory turns out; that is all. I recognize in it one of the leading industries of the sout'h."

"Well, let's take a walk through the building and I'll talk as we go along."

"What do you make in the way of furniture?" I asked, as we stood in front of a lathe ture? I asked, as we stood in front of a lather that was turning out very pretty turned work. "We make nothing but bedsteads." "How many do you make a year?" "About 40,000, though we intend to increase our capacity and shall make more next year. We are constantly enlarging our works and about July or August will almost double the give of the process. the size of the present factory by extending it out towards the river."

"Not afraid of the floods?"

"Oh, not much. They don't come often enough to be very alarming."
"What amount of business do you have annually?"

"Our business amounts to about $150,000 a year, and is all the time growing. It we have a good cetton crop we shall hardly be able to supply the demand for our goods."
"Where does your rade extend?"
"Our principal trade is with Georgia, though at extends all over the south. Loomis & Hart is a familiar name to all southern furniture men in the south. Here is an order now for Texas for four car loads of our goods. They will be shipped in a day or our goods. They will be shipped in a day or two, when more will follow during the season. Then our trade is very good in Tennessee and Alabama. We also send goods through the Carolinac, Virginia and Mississippi of the season o

"How meny hands do you employ?"
"We work one hundred men, and pever shut down in summer." "Have you any other specialties besides

"Yes, here are some cracker boxes we are "Yes, here are some cracker boxes we are making for one of your live Atlanta men, Mr. Jack. Then we make farit crates. However, we are not as well prepared on crates this year as we will be next seasor. We intend having all the latest machinery by then, and you may expect to hear of our furnishing standard third bushel crates under thirty dollars per thousand, which will enable us to compete the property of the product of ber thousand, which will enable us to com-bete with Memphis and all the crate markets. The crate business is a couthern necessity, and we are prepared to meet it. You may say, too, that we make a epecialty of finish-ng work for houses in wakrut, ash, etc. We make frames of all kinds, mantels. newel osts and everything necessary to finish up posts and everything necessary to mass up-the finest houses."

"How long have you been established?"

"Since 1865. The furniture business, of some 1877. We occupy seven acres of ground, nearly all of which sfilled with buildings or lumber. We hanin our business every year over 5,000,000 tof lumber, do our own sawing, and hence independent on that line."

feet of lumber, do our own sawing, and hence are independent on that line."

When we had finished a tour through the factory, where I saw more bedsteads than I ever laid eyes on before, we walked over to their model saw mill, a few rods away. Going over Mr. Loomis said, "We make bed room for $9,000 people to sleep every year." "Counting two in a bed, I suppose you mean, of course," I put in. The saw mill is really a model of its kind, and simply outsaws anything I ever saw. It was made in Erie, Pa. The big three feet thick poplar and pine logs are just cut in slices like as readily, apparently, as an inch plank. The engine that drives the mill is 100-horse power, and was made right here in Chattanooga by Webster. The lathe machine is run by a 30-horse power to run the furniture factory. In all they run three large engines of two hundred horse power, and are not out one dollar for fuel. They use nothing but saw-dust, green, as it comes from the logs. It is astonishing how well it burns. Not having to buy fuel of any kind is why Loomis & Hart can afford to put their goods on the market on such a low margin. There are twenty-five different machines in the furniture factory, of the latest improved pattern.

THE WHOLESALE TRADE OF CHATTANOGA.

Chattanooga's wholesale trade cannot date back many years, but it is of sufficient importance, after only four or five seasons' growth, to warrant my making mention of it. In dry goods, groceries and hardware something like $2.500,000 is done, the jobbing trade in groceries being especially lively. Besides this Chattanooga handles over 2,000,000 bushel' f grain which is valued at at leasts $2.000,000. As already stated in my list letter, the output from the manufactories here amounts to $6.500,000. Besides this, the trade in machinery, such as engines separators, threshers, gins, saw mills, etc., etc., amounts to the enormous sum of $2,500,000. The retail business foots up probably $1,500,000. Summing up the above figures I find that the grees trade of the city is close on to $15,000,000 in all branches, which is truly a lost creditable showing.

THE signal service bureau report indicates to-day, for the south Atlantic states, local rains partly cloudy weather, east to south winds stationary or slight rise in temperature, sta tionary or slight fall in barometer.

An unusually large wool clip has been made in southern Georgia, judging from the returns made in Colquitt county. Good prices have been obtained and prosperity should prevail, especially as remarkably large crops of all kinds are reported.

QUIETLY, but none the less surely, the beautiful little city of Marietta, one of the fairest of Georgia's gems, is taking a high and fixed position as a city of solid men and solid business. A correspondent gives a graphic sketch of the Marietta at the close of the war and

ONE of the first acts of real justice that the senate has done in a long time, is the passage the relations which, under our form of of the Japanese indemnity bill. It will help us in Japan and will give the oriental with whom-rather than with nations. Europe, our commercial interests lie-a better opinion of American honesty than a dozen treaties.

COMMENCEMENT season has fairly begun From now for six weeks Georgia will be turn ing out hundreds of young men and women whose schooling is ended. What the great number of these young persons study and how they do it is of perennial interest to every one who has been through the mill or who have children at work in it.

AT last the highly excited state of the Egyp. tian has found vent in riot and bloodsbed. It is strange that it has not come before. For years the Egyptian has been despoiled by Europeans, and like his ancestor, he has been ground between the upper and the nether millstone until the proverbially mild-eyed has become wild-eyed and bloodthirsty.

FOURTH of July stands a better chance to . day for a good celebration than it has yet done. There is nothing like a few men of energy to put an enterprise through, and that quality the gentlemen who are "running" our next 4th of July possess. There is nothing like fairs, celebrations and meetings to give a place a boom. Every little one helps, and although Atlanta does not need a boom, still a good, lively Fourth of July celebration can only do good, and so good citizens should work up the movement to celebrate it.

LAST night the art loan exhibition was opened. It contains a remarkably good list of paintings, water colors and prints. These alone would make the exhibition a success. But the collection of keramics and other articles of "bigotry and virtue" as Mrs. Malaprop says, is very remarkable. There are bits of fine ware which would be creditable to any exhibition anywhere. The managers deserve high praise for their efficient work and for having everything ready and in working order at the appointed hour. Any one who nisses the exhibition will miss a capital hance to see some good art and what Atlanta's ideas on the subject are.

COLONEL TRAMMELL'S CARD. In the Sunday's issue of THE CONSTITUTION we published a card from Colonel Trammell, which had been changed after Colonel Trammell wrote it by one who felt authorized to do so, but with no other object except to make it more intelligible, by inserting the language: "These words are attributed, whether correctly or not I cannot say, to General P. M. B. Young." The card as thus changed might be construed as a reflection on General Young. General Young has as emphatically denied the use of the language imputed to him as has Colonel Trammell, and we feel sure that phatic denial of language attributed to him. THE DEMOCRATIC OMNIBUS. In a late issue of the Albany News and Ad-

Trammell to reflect in any way on General

Young. He simply wished to make an emvertiser we find the following: THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION is trying to argue way the fact that Mr. Stephens's nomination will away the fact that Mr. Stephens's nomination will be tavorable to the independents in all the doubt-ful congressional districts. The fact that the inde-pendents all want Mr. Stephens nominated, and that they expect to ride on the same wagon with him, cannot be put out of sight, however, and The. Construction's belab ored efforts to get rid of it amuse the sensible and unbossed democrats of the state no little away a fact, but a fact is not established by cess of working oxen offsets Tennessee's exmere assertions. If the nomination of Mr. Stephens will be favorable to the independents it will be because his nomination will animals. The difference in population is less bring them back into the party. We believe that | than 1,000. Mr. Stephens's nomination will wipe out the and nominates some other candidate, THE 527,589, an increase of 26 per cent; Tennessee

he campaign.

It is true, the independents are making a democratic convention. It is true that he will be warmly supported by the independent voters in the seventh and ninth districts, who will take advantage of his candidacy to return to the organization, and these are just the men whose sympathy and support the party needs. As to the attitude of the independent leaders, we suppose nobody cares, the democratic party does as to the attitude of that care and thoroughly honest element large which has made independentism possible in the seventh and ninth congressional dis tricts. In order to deceive this element, the late independent leaders now make a pretence of supporting Mr. Stephens; but they know, and every other sensible man knows, that whoever supports Mr. Stephens does so with the knowledge that his candidacy is for the avowed purpose of destroying independentism-for the purpose of bringing back into line those who, for various reasons, have been inclined to follow men caring less for the success of democratic principles than for the success of their personal schemes. We doubt most capitally whether these independent leaders propose to ride in the same wagon with Mr. Stephens, but we have high hopes that the honest voters who have given these leaders their temporary notoriety will come into the organized omnibus. It is big enough for us all. JOHN LOGAN'S LATEST.

The Hon. Jack Logan and his stalwart gang have scored another victory in the present congress-a victory likely to bear substantial fruits in the future provided another congress fails to revise the whole matter. In the army appropriation bill recently passed in the house provision was made for the compulsory retirement of army officers. The house fixed the age at 62, but the senate, after higgling around, and making flings at Sherman through the medium of John Logan's tooting horn, fixed the age at 64. The house has now agreed to the senate's amendment, and in two years Sherman will make way for Sheridan, who knows nothing whatever of government, the military bears to the civil department.

A patriotic republican congress would have seriously considered the propriety of abolishing the office of general of the army, which was invented for the purpose of rewarding Grant and Sherman, the men who really reaped the honors of the war on the federal side. But John Logan and the other stalwarts have their own particular plans. It is their purpose to make Sheridan the commander of the army, for they know that in him the most disreputable wing of the republican party has a super serviceable tool upon which it can rely in all conjunctures. Sheridan's pranks in Louisiana show that he is unfit to be at the head of the army. Sherman is eccentric, but he is patriotic, and he holds himself aloof from politics. He has, in fact, filled the office with credit to himself and the country, and he ought to be retained or the place should be abolished. It is possible that the next congress may be induced to revise John Logan's work.

LIVE STOCK AND FERTILIZERS.

A little three-page bulletin from the censu office is very full of information that is at least interesting to all who are not vegetarians. The table of the report shows that in 1880 the aggregate number of horses in the United States was 10.357.981, that being 45 per cent increase since 1870; mules and asses. 1,812,932, increase 61 per cent; working oxen, 993,970, decrease 25 per cent; milch cows, 12,443,593, increase 39 per cent; other cattle, 22,488,590, increase 66 per cent; sheep, 35,191,-656, increase 24 per cent; swine 47,683,951, inper cent; population, increase, 30 per cent. Ranch stock is not included in these figures. nor are horses, mules, cows and swine (in cities or elsewhere) belonging to persons not owning or occupying farms.

It will be seen that all classes of live stock except working oxen, show a rate of increase considerably larger than that of population the exception in the case of sheep being probably only apparent, as in 1870, in spite | Telegraph and Messenger may be very gratifying to of the instructions from the census office, a considerable number of spring lambs were included in the report of sheep. The number of sheep given is exclusive of spring lambs, being in fact those shorn at the spring clip of 1880.

It should be borne in mind that the corn crop returned in 1880 (the production of 1879) vas an exteedingly poor one so that the percentage of gain indicated by these figures is greater than would have been shown had the crop of that year compared favorably with the production of either the preceding or succeeding year.

The number of working oxen has increased in only fifteen of the forty-seven states and territories, and, with the exception of Michithere was no intention on the part of Colonel gan, this increase is confined to the south and far west.

In Georgia there were 93,520 horses, an increase in ten years of 20 per cent.; 132,078 mules, increase 51 per cent.; working oxen, 50.026, increase 8 per cent. Georgia is not a horse-owning state, her people holding 20 per cent, less than the people of Alabama, and only about one-third the number owned in Tennessee. Georgia and Tennessee are almostly alike in population, and yet Georgia has only 89,520 horses against 266,119 in Tennessee. We have 132,078 mules, but Tennessee holds 173,488. us. Tennessee is for richer in horses, mules, sheep and swine. We have more cattle, but the aggregate of animals is against us. And the figures are still less flattering when northern states of nearly equal population are brought in. Wisconsin has four horses where we have one twice as many cattle three times as many sheep, and about the like num ber of swine. Michigan has 2,189,389 sheep against 527,588 in Georgia. Kansas has more swine, and twice the number of cattle.

Comparisons may be odious, but they are suggestive and should be instructive. The comparatively small number of animals in the state explains to a great extent the pres ent poor condition of the soil. If the number of animals was rightly proportioned to the acres in cultivation, there would be plenty of home-made fertilizers and home wealth. The basis of a northern farm is the number of animals necessary to bring the land up to a high state of fertility and keep it there. If such a basis were adopted in Georgia the amount of live stock would have to be trebled. and the estimate placed upon home-made fertilizers would have to be raised, and that of commercial fertilizers correspondingly lowered. There is no other known way to make the soil of the state as fertile and productive as it should be. Wealth and prosperity and a high degree of contentment, happiness and civilization are all involved in these homely but important facts relative to live stock and fertilization.

THE COMMISSION GOING TO PIECES Ex-Vice-President Wheeler and ex-Governr Phelps have refused to serve as members of the tariff commission. This leaves seven nen willing to serve, not one of whom is widely known as a student of political econo my, or widely known at all. The president has rejected all the high authorities in economic matters in his own party, and has put before the senate the names of men who have neither studied the tariff question nor the practical questions connected with custom nouse matters. He has rejected alike the ab stract and the practical men. The leading merchants of New York are now asking him to put in the commission at least one man who is familiar with "those peculiar features of the tariff that leave the importer in doubt of the true meaning of the produce vexations delays and law. legislation, and encourage dishonest practices;" but it is not probable he will heed their petition. The president is familiar with custom house matters; he was collector of the port of New York, and the make-up of the commission cannot be apologized for on the ground of the president's ignorance. He knew what he was doing. He is controlled by those who want, in the first place, delay, and then an unanimous report that will practically sustain the present tariff, including all, or nearly all, of its enormities and villainies. To carry out the programme to which he has bravely committed himself, he should put Private Dalzell in Mr. Wheeler's place, and Ampt would be a good companion for the more obscure Ambler. This might give Ohio too many places but in a commission packed for delay and projection, there surely need be no haggling over locality. At any rate we urge the nomination of Dalzell and Ampt for the places of the two men who refuse to assist in the grinding of the high protective axes. Dalzell is certainly as competent as any other man that the president has named from the republican ranks, and Ampt is by no means a weak brother. Let Ambler and Ampt, the twin Ohio states men, serve side by side.

CURRENT COMMENT. The Tariff Commission. Augusta Chronicle. The first thing needing revision is the Tariff Comalssion itself. New York Sun. A fraud in its origin, the tariff comm fraud in its formation. It should be killed. New York Herald.

We suppose that the nominations (for tariff commissioners) will be confirmed, and we agree with the twenty-four democratic senators in having small hope of any practical benefits to the country from such a commission. It is composed wholly in the interest of the producers, and neither the comsumers nor the workingmen are represented upon it.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

We pointed out the game of the protectionists all along. They are crowing over their triumph, forgetting that they cannot stop the anti-protective tariff agitation. Good men and true are arraying themselves against the further robbery of the people by an unconstitutionally created privileged class. While the packed commission is spending the public money working up a one-sided report, the people this fall will be gaining a deeper knowledge of the gross injustice they have for years suffered through the tariff and will bring the tariff question to the polis. If they do not get a congress this year which will upset the gilded god Protection in his temple, they will succeed two years hence.

Savannah News. This entire commission law was evidently a measure devised only to make sport of the people. So far from the tariff question being by it removed from polities, it is brought more decidedly than from polities, it is brought more decidedly than ever before the public, because it may now be seen plainly that if the people ever secure the reforms they demand, they must secure them for themselves. This can only be done by electing a congress this fall which will give the wishes of the masses preference over those of the protected masses preference over those of the protected masses preference over those of the protected misself as the constitution intended for fongress to do, instead of shirking responsibility and attempting to tamper with and deceive the country through the agency of any outside body whatever.

A Rapublican Estimate of Arthur.

We deprecate the levity with which the press receives Mr. Thomas C. Platt's declaration that the president didn't tell the truth when he denied that there was a political conference at his house on Sunday, May 22, 1881. To say that any president is untruthful is not only an unmannerly but a demoralizing thing. It teaches the youth of the country to speak evil of dignities. Bat to say that this president is untruthful is monstrous. He is regarded in Washington as the handsomest man now living, and an excellent representative of "New York society." Besides, he has outdone every president we ever had. He can do things none of them, not even Lincoln, or Grant, or Hayes, or Garfield ever thought of attempting.

Lincoln or Gract could never leave Washington for a week, during an important session of congress, to fix up a state far a state ticket.

President of them could ever delay appointments for a national tariff commission, in order to hold consultations with "Jake" Patterson, "Steve" French and "Lou" Payu as to the best way to put down Cornell

Last night James Small was arrested by Officers Green and Aldridge for disorderly driving. He was seen about 10 o'clock driving down Decatur street with the horse in a full rûn, and was followed to the guano works, where the buggy was upset and torn to pieces. Soon after Small was taken to the station house. Mr. Miller, the Loyd atreet liveryman, put in an appearance and identified Small as a man who had hired a horse and buggy from him during the ifternoon under the name of Johnson. The buggy was completely demolished, the horse badly injured, and Mr. Miller says he will prosecute Small to the extent of the law.

IN NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Dr. Edwin F. Vose, Portland, Me., says: "I have prescribed it for many of the various forms of nervous debility, and it has never failed to do good."

Two Cincinnati men who got mad and threw billiard balls at each other were "pocketed" for thirty days each.

The Eminent Physician, J. Marion Sims, M.D. New York: "I am convinced that Professor Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is a most valuable disinfectant."

For small-pox and other contagious diseases use Darbys Prophylactic Fluid. Persons waiting on the sick should use it freely. It will prevent small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria or any contagious disease from spreading, and the worst cases will yield to its purifying and cleansing effects.

Dr. Bliss is going to Europe. He will doubtless tart for Russia and hang around within calling listance of the czar.

sioner was present. The report of the station house keepers showed that 69 state cases had been docketed during the month, and 47 of these cases had been prosecuted; that of the stafe cases 4 prisoners had been transferred to the county jail, and 4 had been taken to other counties; that 22 had been released by the arresting officers for want of presecution; that 187 meals have been furnished by the city to the stafe prisoners at a cost of $8.20, and that $13.65 had been collected for locking up prisoners.

The chief of police's report was a well digested resume of police matters for the month. It showed that 406 city cases had been made during the month; that 99 had been dismissed and that seven had been continued. The report showed that the amount of fines imposed during the month was $1.831; that $1.63.410 was collected; that $46.75 was remitted by his honor the mayor; that $12.50 was lost by escapes and that $737.40 was worked out and was being worked out on the streets. It also set forth that $1.082.40 was the amount of money paid to the city clerk by the city, the station house and the police force.

The charges against Captain N. G. Aldridge and Patrolman J. B. Justice were read. The offense specified was that the officers had unlawfully arrested a negro woman named Milley McKinley, and that in making the arrest the officers had done the woman bodily harm by handling her roughly. Captain Aldridge was first placed upon trial and pleaded not guilty. Mr. Hoke Smith, the attorney for the prosecution, asked for a continuance on the grounds of the absence of Mrs. J. J. Culpepper. In asking for the continuance, Mr. Smith stated that Mrs. Culpepper would swear to the circumstances of the arrest.

Ar. Smith repeated his former statement and asked Captain Aldridge: "Do you mean to say I have made a false statement?"

No. I did not say so," replied the captain. "I said I did not think Mrs. Culpepper knew anything about the arrest."

But, sir," said Mr. Smith, "you must not intimate that I am telling an untruth." Her As we were passing M. Rich & Bro.'s store our attention was attracted to the crowd at the counters and blocking up the door way. This was evidence of the fact that their great closing out sale was in good faith, and shows what advertising, backed by the truth, will always prevail.

Unprecedented Closing Ont Sale.

The tremendous sales of M Rich & Bro during the past week have never been equalled in the annals of closing out sales in this city, but you will not wonder when you know the facts. The truth is the entire stock of dry goods and novelties must be closed in less than 45 days, prior to the removal to their new store. To tris end every article in the house has been reduced in price 25 to 50 per cent. To all who have not called, we would say come and convince yourselves of the truth of this statement.

M Rich & Bro. june 7 dlm—sun tues thurs disclaimed any knowledge of the case and was excused from further attendance.

Charges against P. W. Merritt, supernumerary, were read. He was charged with interfering with one of F. G. Hancock's porters, in which interference Mr. Hancock's coods were damaged. Several witnesses were examined. Mr. Hancock stated that his porter was hauling some paper on a truck along Whitehall street, when officer Merritt puthed him off the stidewalk, throwing the paper into the mud. Mr. Hancock thought that officer Merritt was too indiscreet to be a policeman, and that the commissioners ought to know it. He knew that an unfit person might creep into the force, and that in the case of Mr. Merritt he was satisfied that the commissioners "had bit off more than they could chew." DANIEL & CO., MANAGERS. "When will you begin work?" querried the reporter.

"About Wednesday. Our machinery is arriving now or will soon do so. I will be busy buying tools and supplies to morrow and hope to begin work by Wednesday."

"How many men will you work and how long will you be at it?"

"I hope to complete the street within three months, and will use what force is necessary."

"Is paving streets your business?"

"Yes We have done a good deal of work in Louisville and other kentucky towns. We done work in San Francisco and Virginia City and have always been successful, but I must now leave you, to visit a rock quarry."

Only a glance at Mr. Shanks is required to impress one in his behalf. He is a gentleman of medium height and weighs about 170 pounds. He has a clever, open face, which indicates great decision, and moves with a regularity and precision which shows clearly that he means business and will accomplish what he undertakes. He comes to Atlanta highly indorsed and will do the Peachtree work with credit to himself. He will push things rapidly until the work is done. The contract was let at $1.20 per square yard and the macadam is to be fourteen in the deep. The rock will come from a new quarry near Atlanta.

POSITIVELY CLOSING BUSINESS.

60 DAYS TO CLOSE OUT.

TURNER & CO., 43 WHITEHALL STREET. TURNER & CO., 43 WHITEHALL STREET..

WILL, FOR SIXTY DAYS, BEGINNING JUNE 1st, on account of failing health, close out their entire steek at and below cost. This is ho Sham Sale, but we mean exactly what we say, for we shall sell Lock, Stock and Barrel in that time. We will entertain a proposition, also, to close out our entire Stock. Fixtures, Stand and Good-will to any one party wishing to begin business in atlanta, and to them this is a rare eportunity, for we have been in business for many years, and made money, and our only object for selling is, as before stated, on account of failing health. Our stock is first-class, well selected, much of it being bought this Spring, and consists of Millinery. Fancy Goods, Notions, Embroidery Materials, Human Hair Goods, Toys, etc.

Buy Cheap while the opportunity lasts. See our Goods, compare our Prices. No so-called Closing Sale to buy again, but positively to quit business. Don't mistake the number—43.

CHARLES BERMANN, Treasurer.

Success has rewarded the energy, ability, integrity, and charity characterizing every action of the management of the world-famed distributions of the Louisiana State Lottery. So greatly has the demand for tickets exceeded the supply that herefter the former scheme of the monthly grand drawings taking place on the second Tue-day of every month will be multiplied by two and a half. Thus the whole tickets will be Five Dollars each, but fifths will be sold for one dollar, and the First Capital will be $75,000, not $30,000, as hitherto, and the total prizes will be $25,000. The mext drawing (the 166th) will take place on July 11, and any one seeking full information can apply to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Generals G. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal A. Charterless Marriage Associations have made their appearance, announcing to the public that they are chartered under the laws of the state, which is false and a misrepresentation of facts and liable to deceive the public. There is but one chartered association of the kind in the state, and that is the Mutual Relief Fund Association, which was organized as a permanent institution for a laudable purpose. It is indorsed by the press and leading citizens of the city because the management are well known business men. These charterless associations will have only an enhemeral existence, leaving somebody out of pocket, thereby destroying the confidence of the public and seriously injuring legally authorized associations whose object is to do good. What it Did For an Old Lady.

Coshocton Station, N. Y., December 28, 1878.

Gents—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, i sent to Deposit, forty-five miles, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbor's, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children also have derived great benefit from their use.
